

ALL THAT YOU CAN DO

Another year, another try.
But you ask yourself why
you feel lost in this town.
In your life you feel alone.

There's got to be another way.

Another lie, another drink.
That could help you not to think.
You try to be somebody else,
No wonder that your friends are false.

There must be another way.

Be yourself is all that you can do.
Try and you will gain a better view.
Be yourself is all that you can do.

Another job, another girl.
But you're a shell without a pearl.
You try to feel free.
But nothing is all that you can see.

There must be another way...

Be yourself is all that you can do.
Try and you will gain a better view.
Be yourself is all that you can do.
